

SPRING UNIT PLANS

World History & Geography 2

OVERVIEW

Content

This one-semester course explores world history from the Renaissance to the present. Coverage of political events begins at approximately 1550. Geographic concepts and locations are integrated into the study of the history of the modern world.

The essential body of knowledge to be covered in this course is contained in the Student's Friend, Part 2: Renaissance to the present. This core knowledge will be supplemented with video materials and student activities.

Course Schedule:

Unit	Title	Pages	Weeks, approx.	Days	Finish Dates	Comments
1	1500s & 1600s	4	3	14	2/2/01	Includes introductory & research days
2	1700s	4	3	14	2/23/01	Includes 3 days CSAP Testing
3	1800s	5	3	14	3/15/01
4	1900-1925	3	2	9	4/4/01
5	1925-1945	4	2.5	12	4/23/01
6	1945-Present	3	2	10	5/8/01
7	Current Issues	3	2	11	5/23/01
Totals		26		84		Final 5/24, Last day 5/24

Activities which are not unit-specific

These activities are not tied to specific units. They may overlap several units and may be used as desired during the semester:

- Multi-media presentations
- Illustrated Timeline Project
- Clothing Imports Project