

S.F. 1 - Quiz p. 15

Name_____

1. It had been a republic for nearly 500 years before Julius Caesar turned it into a dictatorship. It was the world's first western superpower.
2. He committed suicide rather than becoming a prisoner of the Romans. This general from Carthage took an army of 100,000 men over the Alps in an unsuccessful attempt to conquer Rome.
3. These are large structures that carried water to cities of the Roman Empire.
4. It took three wars for Rome to finally destroy this rival power from North Africa.
5. Its central location helped this city to become the capital of the Roman Empire.
6. Sometimes called a peninsula of peninsulas, this continent became the dominant region of the world by the end of the Middle Ages.

S.F. 1 - Quiz p.16

Name_____

1. He was born with the name Octavian but changed it when he became the first emperor of Rome.

2. Used extensively in law and science, this language was the source of the modern Romance languages of French, Spanish, Italian, and Portuguese.

3. This victorious general declared himself dictator of Rome which led to his assassination.

4. This queen from North Africa became involved with two of the most important leaders of Rome, Julius Caesar and Mark Antony.

5. This period of peace began with Augustus Caesar and lasted for 200 years.

6. This is the ancient name of present day France. It was here that Julius Caesar made his reputation as a great military leader.